Hometown appeal

"My goal has been and will always be to provide professional, quality and reputable services at affordable prices to local homeowners," says owner Scott Nelson.

His family-owned business has served the community for more than 20 years, formerly operating under the name of Scott's Lawn Care and Snowplowing, LLC. And with the new name and rebranding, New Leaf Outdoor Services hopes customers will continue to trust them as their one-stop-shop for all their home care needs.

Nelson extended his original business plan — installing and maintaining asphalt driveways and lots — into snowplowing and lawn care to meet his customers' requests. With six plows and a dedicated crew, New Leaf Outdoor

New Leaf Outdoor Services will make your lawn look its best with a weekly cut and trim service in addition to sidewalk edging and other services.

Services has great response time for plowing customers out whenever more than two inches of snow fall. And best of all, customers pay a flat $349 rate (avg. driveway) for the entire season.

Even before the business got started, Nelson had already begun honing his craft. In junior high school, the West St. Paul native began working for his father's sealcoating company, and he worked as a parking lot striper in the late '70s.

"I'm still serving the community that I was born and raised in," Nelson proudly states. "I feel a great sense of loyalty to this community."

New Leaf Outdoor Services has extended its clientele area now and offers home care to South St. Paul, West St. Paul, Mendota Heights, Inver Grove Heights, Woodbury, New Port, Cottage Grove and the West Side of St. Paul.

Here's what New Leaf's happy customers have to say:

"Your team of workers did an amazing job!"

- Carol, Mendota Heights

"Thanks Scott! Great to be doing business with you again! Wish everyone was as dependable and efficient as you and your company!"

- Jane, South St. Paul

"Your plow drivers do a good job every time it snows. I have also referred you to three of our friends and they agree your guys are the best, as they are now your customers too! You guys are beyond good! Thanks for the service."

- Sue, Mendota Heights

"Last year we cut more grass than we have ever cut," Nelson says, adding that his client base continues to grow thanks to customer loyalty and neighbor-to-neighbor recommendations.

For all your homecare needs, trust New Leaf Outdoor Services. With their reliable service and top-notch expertise, all you need to do is enjoy the time they save you.
